

June 1st, 2023.

Dear valued customers, suppliers, colleagues, and friends.

We are excited to announce that our company Injection Alloys, is launching his new corporate image, as we aim to continuously improve and adapt to the changing business landscape.

As part of this change, we have rebranded ourselves with a new logos, which we believe better reflects our values and the high standards of service we provide. We will be updating all our marketing materials and online platforms to showcase our new look.

Our commitment to delivering quality products and exceptional customer service remains unchanged. We will continue to work diligently to meet your needs and exceed your expectations.

We believe that this new image will strengthen our relationships with our customers and suppliers and open new opportunities for growth and innovation.

Thank you for your continued trust and support. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to our team.

Sincerely,

Ramiro Becerra
