

INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

(Document PSle – IAM r0)

At Injection Alloys, we are committed to the implementation of guidelines and practices for the protection of information assets that are generated in our processes, seeking its confidentiality, integrity and availability.

The objectives of the Information Security Management System are planned with the focus of maintaining essential information and preventing the materialization of risks that may affect information assets.

Our commitment is to continually improve the Information Security Management System, both for the information generated internally and for that shared with us by our clients and suppliers.
